Homework 5

This homework is to revise the WebGL demo which has rectangles falling down. The rules are as follows.

1. When the user clicks inside a falling rectangle, the rectangle will pause on the canvas and change to a random color.

2. When the user clicks inside a pausing rectangle again, the rectangle will fall down again with the original speed and change to another random color.